What is Crypto Trading?

Crypto trading is the process of buying and selling cryptocurrencies like Bitcoin, Ethereum, and other digital assets through online platforms. Traders aim to make profits by taking advantage of price changes in the market.

Unlike traditional currencies, cryptocurrencies are decentralized — meaning they operate without banks or governments — and their prices are driven by supply, demand, market trends, and global news.

Crypto trading can be done in two main ways:

- Spot Trading: Buying and selling coins directly at current prices.
- Futures or Margin Trading: Predicting future price movements and earning profits even when the market goes up or down.

With the right strategy and tools, crypto trading offers exciting opportunities for growth in the digital economy.

What is Forex Trading?

Forex trading (also known as foreign exchange trading) is the global marketplace for buying and selling currencies. It's the largest financial market in the world, with a daily trading volume of over $6 trillion.

In Forex trading, currencies are traded in pairs — for example, EUR/USD or GBP/INR — meaning you buy one currency while simultaneously selling another. Traders aim to profit from the changes in exchange rates between these currency pairs.

Forex markets are open 24 hours a day, five days a week, offering continuous trading opportunities across the world's financial centers.
